PROFILE

Living in technology progressive environment, I cannot hold my curiousness to discover more in this field.

I have embarked on a journey into frontend development after completing a full-stack course at GOIT. My proficiency in Vietnamese, Russian, and English enables me to quickly adapt and creatively solve challenges. With my experience working alone with websites, I have mastered time-management and quick development in different field.

I am ready to continuously exploring emerging technologies and best practices to stay at the forefront of frontend development for your company.
